

HAPPY PUNKS

"HOW TO BARTER"

by & john jana

Hi, Viv. I need a new guitar string.

Here's a rubber band.

Good enough!

Hi, Opal. I'll trade you this rubber band for a guitar string.

All I have are ukulele strings. You want two?

Sure.

Hi, Perry. I'll trade you these ukulele strings for a guitar string.

All I have are these donuts.

No, those aren't any good.

They're delicious!

Hi, Noriko. I'll trade you these ukulele strings for a guitar string.

I've got a big, wiggly spring!

That'll do!

Hi, Des, I'll trade you this big, wiggly spring for a guitar string.

I don't need a big, wiggly spring. Just take the guitar string.

Sure.

Hey, Viv, do you want a big wiggly spring?

Yeah. I'm missing my rubber band.

This is better than a rubber band. Come on!

LATER...

Hey, that's my big, wiggly spring! I've been looking for it for days.

I'll trade you for a rubber band.

You've got a deal!

I gave you that spring
and you just traded it away!

I like rubber bands better.

What can they do that big,
wiggly springs can't?

THE END.